

CAPS (Cancer of the Pancreas Screening study)

CAPS is a review of prevention approaches for pancreatic cancer screening.

Participants who are considered high risk for pancreatic cancer due to a family history or genetic mutation undergo genetic counseling and pancreatic screening. The study aims to find the best and most sensitive screening modality among a variety of techniques.

Contact:

Chinedu Ukaegbu, MBBS, MPH

Project Manager

Phone: 617-632-6355

Fax: 617-632-3161