

Jill E. Stopfer MS, LGC

Associate Director, Genetic Counseling

Biography

Jill is a graduate of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, with a Masters degree in Human Genetics and Genetic Counseling. She was among the first genetic counselors in the country to focus primarily in oncology and has worked over the years on numerous educational and policy initiatives. She counsels individuals and families with hereditary risks to cancer, and works on a number of research projects looking to optimize the way genetic counseling is offered.

Background

Board Certification

American Board of Medical Genetics, 1990

American Board of Genetic Counseling, 1993

Education

MS, Genetic Counseling and Human Genetics, University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, 1988

Awards

University of MI Genetic Counseling Training Program Diane Baker Distinguished Alumnus Award, 2011

Locations

DFCI Longwood Campus, Boston, MA