

Dana-Farber
Cancer Institute

Heather Cibotti RN, BSN, OCN
Oncology Nurse Navigator, Gastrointestinal Cancer Center

Biography

After earning her Bachelor of Science in Nursing, Heather began her oncology nursing career at the Wilmot Cancer Center in Rochester, New York where she worked in adult and pediatric bone marrow transplantation. She moved back home to New England in 2009 where she continued working in inpatient oncology at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute/Brigham and Women's Cancer Center. In 2011, when the Yawkey Center for Cancer Care opened, Heather transitioned to the outpatient infusion setting in Gastrointestinal/Multiple Myeloma. In the fall of 2018, Heather became a Nurse Navigator in the Gastrointestinal group at Dana-Farber.

Background

Education

Syracuse University, Syracuse, NY
Bachelor of Science in Nursing, 2006