

Dana-Farber Cancer Institute

Jennifer Falb, MSN, AGNP

Certified Adult-Gerontology Nurse Practitioner, Gastrointestinal Cancer Center

Biography

Jennifer received her education and training here in Boston hospitals. After working in a medical-surgical setting with some oncology patients, she realized how much she enjoyed caring for cancer patients and decided to focus her career on oncology. She began working inpatient on an oncology and bone marrow transplant floor at Brigham and Women's Hospital and decided that she wanted to care for cancer patients in the outpatient setting. Her career began at Dana-Farber over twenty years ago, working as an infusion room nurse caring for patients with a variety of solid tumor cancers. After decades of nursing experience, Jennifer decided that she wanted to have a more significant role in the care oncology patients receive. She earned her Nurse Practitioner degree in the Spring of 2020 and soon after began her Nurse Practitioner career working in the Gastrointestinal group at Dana-Farber.

Background

Education

University of Massachusetts, Boston, MA
Master of Science in Nursing, 2020

Emmanuel College, Boston, MA
Bachelor of Science in Nursing, 1994

Board Certification

The American Academy of Nurse Practitioners National Certification Board
Adult-Gerontology Nurse Practitioner, 2020