Creating Powerful Possibilities for Patients

Live better. Live longer.

Early detection and prevention discoveries.

As leaders in the world’s fight to end women’s cancers, the Susan F. Smith Center for Women’s Cancers at Dana-Farber creates powerful possibilities for patients by bridging compassionate care and world-class research.

Thank you to our Corporate Partners:
The Susan F. Smith Center at Dana-Farber is at the forefront in the early detection and prevention of breast and gynecological cancers.

We invite you to an insider’s look at the groundbreaking research being conducted to help put an end to women’s cancers. You will hear from an expert panel of physician-scientists, led by Ursula Matulonis, MD, about cutting-edge research that is driving new discoveries; speak directly with a leading Dana-Farber physician seated at your table; hear directly from a patient who will share her journey and how she has benefited from our breakthroughs.
